

Reeve voices need for new fire hall

Following is the inaugural address of Reeve Robert Anderson delivered at the start of Monday night's meeting of Stirling village council.

I would like to welcome back Fred Brandt, our councillor from last year. To the new councillors, Doug Bensley, Ed Klompaker and Maurice Montgomery, I am sure you will find it both interesting and educational.

Taking a brief look at our term of office for 1971 and 1972, it is a time of inflation and high taxation. It is very important as a council that we move very carefully and cautiously with each project that we have to deal with.

I will try to briefly outline some of the projects that are confronting us at the present time.

REEVE ANDERSON

First, we have the sewer project which was applied for in 1970. If this was completed, I believe it would supply sewer outlets for all the streets within the village.

Secondly, we have downtown parking space to think about, which I feel is very important at the present time.

The senior citizens units in the village are started and should be ready for occupancy some time in 1971. Application will be made for 12 more units.

In the future, some thought be put towards a new fire hall. Our present fire hall is in need of a lot of repair. This is something our property committee could study.

These are only a few of the problems that face this council at the present time. I am sure as we go along, there will be many more. It is very important that we deal with each one wisely and carefully.

I would like to point out at this time to each committee chairman that it is his duty to see that his particular committee operates within the budget set up.

I am sure throughout the year we will have good discussions and also disagreements. Without these, we would not have a good council.

All I ask is that we have cooperation and when we leave the table, we leave the discussion there.

We have in our clerk, Mr. Pollock, a very capable man with a lot of experience. I am sure if you have questions to ask him, he will do his best to help you. I have found out through the years that he will not lead you too far astray.

In closing, all I ask of you as a council is your help and your cooperation for the next two years.

Serious blaze narrowly averted

Fast action by a local businessman resulted in the containing of a fire which could have caused major damage in downtown Stirling on Saturday morning, December 26.

Russell West, plant manager of Stirling Creamery, discovered the fire about 10 a.m. in an electrical panel at the rear of one of the creamery buildings. Mr. West checks the buildings every day through a holiday period and on Sundays.

The building, which has a separate entrance from the creamery, was filled with smoke and when Mr. West opened the door the panel burst into flame. With great difficulty, because of the heavy smoke, he managed to switch off the main power and then put the fire out with a garden hose.

The fire, which caused an estimated $2,000 damage to electrical boxes and wiring, was attributed to a short circuit.

A compressor unit, which is part of the refrigeration equipment at the creamery and is stored in the room where the fire occurred, was not damaged.

The assistance of the local fire department was not required.

Common dump site favored

It may soon occur that Stirling no longer has its own dump. The Ontario government has produced a set of conditions for waste disposal sites that would be very difficult for a community the size of Stirling to meet. One of these conditions is the conversion of burning areas to landfill operations. Another is the employment of a disposal area attendant.

Reeve Anderson said at Monday night's council meeting that the idea of a common waste disposal site for all southern Hastings County is a good idea. It would certainly cut down on pollution.

1971 council sworn in

The new reeve and council of the village of Stirling were sworn in at Monday evening's meeting. Inaugural speeches were made by Reeve Robert Anderson, councillors Fred Brandt, Edward Klompaker, Maurice Montgomery and village clerk Lindsay Pollock. Councillor Douglas Bensley arrived later during the meeting.

Reeve Anderson clearly explained some of the areas in which he considered that planning and action were essential.

The purpose of the Quinte Planning Board will be to study the physical, social and economic nature of the Quinte area and to produce a long-range plan for the development of this area.

At Monday night's council meeting, clerk W. L. Pollock stated that Stirling has already spent over $6,000 toward an official plan.

Reeve Robert Anderson wondered whether the board, two of its 24 members being drawn from Stirling, would be able to repay part of this investment. The reeve also mentioned that more information about the financial aspects of the Quinte Planning Area should be sought.

Along with other correspondence read, five strike appeals for financial support were dealt with. Two hundred and seventy-five members of Precious Metal Workers Local 24739 of the C.I.O. have been on strike against Johnson, Matthey and Mallory Ltd., Toronto, since Nov. 14, 1970.

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN ONTARIO HYDRO'S 64-year history, steam (thermal) generation in 1970 represented more than half its 12½ million kilowatt capacity and commitment to pollution abatement topped the $50 million mark. The multi-billion dollar construction program underway must meet power demands within the limits of environmental concern. A Hydro task force such as the one (lower right) researches a new wet scrubber process to remove sulphur dioxide before it enters stacks of generating stations. Another control (extreme left) is the 700-foot stack built in 1970 at the R. L. Hearn plant to reduce ground-level pollution in downtown Toronto. Nuclear power is represented by the reactor face (upper left) at Pickering station on Lake Ontario. The tunnel (top right) 1800 feet below Lake Erie is the water intake for the new Nanticoke plant. At this time of year it is traditional to think of resolutions. A lot of people like to make a list of things they would like to accomplish during the coming twelve months.

Are you one of them? Did you keep all the resolutions you set for yourself last year?

I have a resolution to recommend. It concerns budgets - your budget.

If you already have one, fine - especially if it is working for you. Make a resolution to keep it up. If, on the other hand, yours has bogged down, make a resolution to rescue it and modify it so your budget better fits your needs - don't give up on it.

But, if you don't have a budget, now is the time to start. Resolve that in 1971, you are going to plan your finances and control your spending so that at last you can get ahead and even have some money left over.

As I've said before, a budget is only a plan and can be as elaborate or as simple as you like - as long as it is effective. If the word "budget" scares you, just call it a plan.

Start by keeping track of all your spending for a month or two. Then spend a few minutes analyzing it. See if there are some areas where you can make some adjustments. See if your spending for certain items is what it should be according to your income and needs.

Once you have your modified record of spending, you can plan future spending. You can forecast the money you will have and the expenses you will have and based on your spending patterns, you can see just what you will have to spend during the year.

The 1970 Farm Tax Reduction Program is the most recent phase in the Government of Ontario's long-term plan to reform the system of local taxation in this province.

This program will help farm property owners to pay their municipal and education taxes.

To be eligible, the property owner must live in Ontario. Also, if the farm property is less than 11 acres, it must have yielded $2,000 or more in gross income during the year.

A New Year's Wish

As a New Year's wish, we hereby ask that a special, daily garbage collection service be established to pick up the mounds of so-called "news" releases sent to newspaper editors by the army of government public relations people. This should be done as a joint undertaking of the federal and provincial governments, since they are responsible for 99 per cent of this particular type of pollution.

Better still, why not dispose of the flacks and let newsmen obtain the facts themselves? Nothing could be worse than the present set-up.

On Dec. 29 of last year, there arrived at this office Volume 23, Number 33, of the Newsletter published by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests.

On the second page of this missive (Page One deals with the subjects of "Pickers Picking Pecks of Cones") the lands and forests people give an eight-paragraph article on the merits of shopping early for your Christmas tree.

Two questions arise: Is the writer referring to Christmas, 1971, in which case he is 12 months early, or to Castro's Christmas in July, in which case he is only seven months ahead of schedule?

In the same mail, we received a "News release" from the Canada Post Office which tells us that "every year at Christmas, the Post Office gives jobs to a virtual army of unemployed students." It proceeds to quote figures, not for 1970 as one might expect, but for 1969.

Did it take a whole year to compile these figures? And if so, why could they not have been produced at least a week or two earlier when the Christmas mail rush was new?

Public relations people, especially those employed by government, seem not to have the slightest notion about writing their material on time. Apparently they are entirely unaware that a time element has any part to play in the dissemination of information for public consumption.

Consequently, another pair of "news" releases found their way to our garbage can. Which brings us to our New Year's wish.

Newspapers still No. 1

A recent survey conducted by the Small Business Reporter, published by the Bank of America, concludes that newspapers are the number one advertising medium for small business.

"The smart businessman," the publication emphasizes in its article, "reserves a permanent place in his expense picture for advertising. He knows he can't afford not to advertise."

"But with limited funds available," the bank report advises, "he must make every advertising dollar count."

To those small businessmen who have developed a negative attitude toward advertising because of million dollar competition and a lack of advertising expertise, the bank pointed to an old business maxim - "You've got to spend money to make money."

"The small businessman who can capture the imagination of his own small segment of the public through advertising," the Reporter stated, "shows the results of increased sales the same way big business does."

The survey showed that small businessmen spent an average of 3.1 per cent of gross sales on advertising, with local telephone directory Yellow Pages placing second, to newspapers as the "most successful" advertising medium and direct mail placing third.

"Usually considered a good advertising medium," shoppers surprisingly take second place as the "least successful" medium for small advertisers, the bank publication stated.

In addition to using a percentage of gross sales as a guide to how much money to spend on advertising, the bank said, other factors should be considered, including size and type of business, location, competition and size of market area.

The Reporter also cited "countless professional services available" to the small businessman who prepares his own advertising.

"The local media, his suppliers, national associations representing major media and ad agencies specializing in small accounts will all help," the bank report stated, "free and for a reasonable fee."

Loyalist College athletic programs

A varied program of intramural and college athletics has been introduced at Loyalist College this year with the appointment of Athletics Officer Mike Dollack to the staff of the Department of Student Services.

Mr. Dollack, a native of Toronto is a graduate in arts and physical education of Queen's University. He is also a 1970 graduate of McArthur College, Kingston, where he received his Bachelor of Education degree.

The program within the College and in the Ontario Community College Athletic Association, Eastern Region in which Loyalist competes in basketball and hockey has been developed under Mr. Dollack's direction.

Sports on campus in which students participate as individuals and team members include: basketball, badminton, floor hockey, swimming, archery and table tennis.

The College still lacks any athletic facilities of its own but makes use of the gymnasium at Centennial Secondary School, the Ontario School for the Deaf and the swimming pool at Belleville family YMCA.

With other community colleges in their league games.

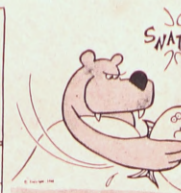

The new Loyalist Athletics Officer has an extensive background in athletics, gained while attending university and teachers' college. In his graduating year at Queen's, he was awarded an honor letter as the student best combining athletics and scholastics in his final year.

At Queen's, he played varsity rugby for five years and was captain of the team in 1968. He also took an active part in university intramural sports such as basketball, football, hockey, swimming, badminton, paddleball, cross country running and track and field.

At McArthur College, he was the athletic representative to the University intramural athletic council, and he was a member of the student council and a student member of the faculty board.

While attending university and teachers' college, Mr. Dollack taught in the physical education program and also worked in the administration of the intramural program at the university level.

by Margaret Brookfield

A FORUM ABOUT MATURE WOMEN

DAREDEVIL SON

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

When my husband passed away six months ago, he left us adequately provided for financially, but it didn't seem right not to have a man as the head of the family. So I told my 16-year-old son Bobby that that was now his job. (He's the oldest of my three children.) But instead of taking on responsibility for the other children as I hoped, Bobby has become increasingly wild. He takes all kinds of dangerous risks and is always getting banged up. So far it's been mainly cuts and bruises, but lately he's taken up drag racing. And when his father was alive he used to be such a sensible boy. I'm terribly worried about him and don't know what to do.

G.B., De Ridder, La.

Dear G.G.:

Perhaps your son wasn't quite ready to be the "man" of the family and is trying to tell you this by his reckless behavior. Why not ease up the pressure to have him take his father's place during this period of readjustment for all of you? Let Bobby be a boy for a while longer. Then perhaps it might be easier for him to become a man.

RECREATION, PLEASE

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

I am a 48-year-old widower with a married daughter and two wonderful grandchildren. I live alone in a small apartment and go out very little. I'm not anti-social, but a chronic spina condition prevents me from getting around as much as I'd like. Sometimes it gets pretty lonesome. I wonder what other stay-at-homes like myself do for recreation.

T. R. Burley, Idaho

Readers:

I know some of you with similar stay-at-home problems have come up with interesting solutions. Why not share them

Loyalist to offer snowmobile course

A course in snowmobile operation, maintenance and safety will be offered by Loyalist College Extension Division beginning in mid-January.

The course consists of six two hour sessions during a three-week period at the College automotive shop on Wallbridge Crescent in Belleville.

It has been planned to provide snowmobile owners with basic instruction in mechanical trouble shooting, driving techniques and first aid.

Preventive maintenance will be stressed with instruction being provided on how to conduct preliminary corrective checks for engine failure on the trail.

Instructor Norman Storms emphasizes that while the course is not intended to make snowmobile owners expert mechanics, the information they obtain could get them out of potentially dangerous situations due to minor difficulties and will enable them to avoid costly repair bills resulting from poor maintenance.

The course will be held Tuesday and Thursday evenings on January 19 and 21, 26 and 28 and February 2 and 4.

The content of the course will deal with engine theory and operating principles, carburetion and fuel systems, ignition, drive belts and chain track alignment, bearing lubrication and ski alignment, storage checks, highway legislation governing operation of the vehicles and first aid.

Purpose of the course is to enable snowmobile owners to get the most in enjoyment out of their vehicles throughout the winter season by following sound maintenance and operation practices and to provide those taking the course with information that will enable them to get out of difficulties they might encounter in the operation of snowmobiles.

TWEED MAN BUYS MADOC NEWSPAPER

The North Hastings Review, Madoc, which has been published by the present owner, J. A. Watson for the past 46 years, has been sold to Maurice Goulah of Tweed, with the new owner taking possession this week.

The Review was established in 1877 and up to the present time, has been owned by only two families. It was founded in 1877 by the late Col. John R. Orr and his brother. In 1912 it was purchased by the late A. H. Watson. Since March 1, 1924, the business has been operated by the present owner, who has seen every business in Madoc, excepting one, change hands at least once, some from father to son, and others to complete strangers. The one exception is Mr. George West, who has been in business over 60 years and who, all this time, has been, and is still, a customer of the Review.

During these 46 years, the Review publisher had several valued and dependable, long-time employees. Besides the present staff of Miss Carol Foley and Mr. C. E. Smale, others include Mrs. Daisy Bateman, Mrs. Annette Taylor, Maurice Ash and the late Miss Ethel Richmond, who was an employee for 56 years.

Mr. Goulah is a native of Hungerford Township and has spent the past 17 years in the printing business. For 12 years he was employed at Oakville and for the past five years has been foreman at the Tweed News. For the past two years he has been a member of the Hungerford Township Council.

Mr. Goulah is 35 years of age, is married and his wife is a teacher at Tweed Public School. Mrs. Louis Mahoney of Madoc is an aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Goulah plan to move to Madoc early this year.

Advance notice law in effect

Labor Minister Dalton Bales has announced new legislation providing for advance notice of dismissal to workers effective January 1.

The amendments to the Employment Standards Act require that workers be given written notice in individual or mass layoffs.

They will be administered by the Employment Standards Branch of the Ontario Department of Labour and apply to all industry, except construction, within the jurisdiction of the Department, including the Crown, its agencies, municipalities and school boards.

The Labor Minister said the legislation would enable discharged employees to take earlier advantage of various programs provided by the Federal and Provincial Governments to assist the unemployed.

These include: training and retraining programs, mobility grants, unemployment insurance and job placement services.

The new legislation specifies that an employer shall not terminate the employment of 50 or more workers in any four-week period without providing written notice to the employees and the Minister.

The regulations require: eight weeks of notice for 50 to 199 employees; 12 weeks of notice for 200 to 499 employees; and 16 weeks of notice for 500 employees or more.

In individual terminations without cause, the notice is: one week for workers with three months to less than two years service; two weeks for employees with two years to less than five years service; four weeks for those with five years but less than 10 years service; and eight weeks if service exceeds 10 years.

Mecking - Shortt

St. James the Minor Roman Catholic Church, Stirling, was the setting for the Saturday, December 19 wedding when Eleanor Irene Shortt became united in marriage to Antonius Johannes Mecking, Gananogue.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Shortt, R.R. 1, Stirling, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Mecking, R.R. 4, Colborne.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of crystal peau with a rolled collar, long full sleeves gathered at the cuff. Applied Guipure lace formed a yoke then down the front of her gown to the waistline and around to the back to meet with the flowing chapel length train which was trimmed with the same lace. Her tiered bouffant veil was held in place with a floral headpiece and she carried a bouquet of American beauty roses and white gardenias.

The matron of honor for her sister, Lorraine Smith and the bridesmaids, Sandra Shortt, Christine Mecking, Sharon Bailey and flower girl, Sherry Anne Smith, were dressed alike in floor length gowns of American beauty silk velvet with long sleeves, ruffled neckline and a train which fell from the waistline, and they carried nosegays of white chrysanthemums.

Attending the groom were other O.P.P. in full dress uniforms. Best man was William Gardner, Belleville, while the ushers were Michael Dempster and William Robson, both of Gananogue and Kenneth Turfitt, Toronto, and the ring-bearer was John Schlumberg.

IN MEMORIAM

McCOY-In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Margaret McCoy, who passed away two years ago, January 2, 1969.

There is always a face before us.
A voice we would like to hear.
A smile we will always remember.
Of a mother we loved so dear.

A cluster of beautiful memories.
Sprayed with a million tears.
Wishing God had spared her.
For many more years.
Do not ask us if we miss her.
Oh there's such a vacant place.
Often we think we hear her footsteps.

And see her smiling face.
-Sadly missed by daughter Marion and son-in-law, Doug Morton, and grandchildren, Janice, Cheryl and Jeffrey. 1-1

WANNAMAKER-In loving memory of my dear son, James, who passed away so suddenly on January 3, 1970.

Time rolls on and I am reminded
Of the day my heart was crushed,
When God took you. O so quickly,
And we all in gloom were thrust.

In the bloom of life death claimed you
In the prime of manhood days,
But I hope some day to meet you,
And be with you always.

-Lovingly remembered by your Dad and step-mother, Nathan and Evelyn Wannamaker. 1-1

ANDREWS-In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Russell Andrews, who passed away January 1st, 1965.

Some day, some time, our eyes shall see.
The face we keep in memory,
And God will link the broken chain,
Still closer, when we meet again.

-Lovingly remembered by Shirley, Ray, Cheryl and Billy. 1-1

ANDREWS-In cherished memory of my dear husband, Russell, who passed away, suddenly, six years ago on January 1st, 1965.

Somewhere back of the sun-set
Where loveliness never dies,
He lives in the land of glory
Mid the gold and blue of the skies.

We, who have loved and lost him
Whose parting brought sad tears,
Will treasure his memory always,
Throughout the passing years.

-Loved and always remembered by his wife, Luella. 1-1

ANDREWS-In loving memory of a dear father and Grandpa, Russell Andrews, who passed away Jan. 1, 1965.

He left us quietly,
His thoughts unknown,
But left us a memory,
We are proud to own.
So treasure him Lord
In your garden of rest.
For when on earth
He was one of the best.

-Sadly missed and always remembered by Doug, Mac, Ron and Wayne. 1-1

Raise in electric rates to take effect in May

The following statement was issued to the News-Argus by Donald Rodgers, newly-elected chairman of the Stirling Public Utilities Commission:

At the inaugural meeting of the Stirling PUC on Monday of this week, a considerable amount of time was spent in discussing the proposed increase in Hydro rates applicable to the village.

The last rate increase was in 1959 and since that time there has been a considerable increase not only in the cost of power, but in the general operating costs.

The Hydro Commission has been utilizing a surplus to cushion the added cost over this interval, but it was pointed out that this can no longer be the case.

Present rates, if continued, would produce a deficit at the end of 1971 of approximately $10,205 and $18,414 in the 1972 operation.

The power costs from Ontario Hydro have increased from $32.40 per kilowatt in 1969 to $39.32 in 1971 and $43.15 in 1972. The controllable cost stood at $23.20 per kilowatt in 1969, $27.10 in 1971 and is predicted to be $29.61 in 1972.

As a matter of fact, the operation of the Hydro utility on the old rate will produce a loss in 1970.

The present proposed increase is even now the very minimum as no surplus is forecast for 1971, and another increase will probably be needed by the end of 1972.

The commission feels that more frequent, but smaller increases are needed and advisable in future years so consumers are not faced with a large increase at any one time. However, the previous surplus has worked to the consumers' advantage in that they have saved money by lower costs over the past few years.

It might be pointed out as well that there will be some change in the rate structure. Those with an approved hot water heating system will enjoy a better break. The old commercial, power and small commercial rates are being combined in one rate known as the general rate. Home owners will be billed under a rate to be called residential.

The introduction of the general rate will eliminate most demand metering that has prevailed in the past, and will result in less confusion to the customer and less billing costs. However, it could have the effect also of eliminating some preferential rates enjoyed by a few customers as now all will be paying for the power actually used, which was not entirely the case on the demand metering basis.

Rawdon clerk hurt in crash

The clerk of Rawdon township was injured Monday evening when he drove his car onto Highway 14, as he was leaving the inaugural meeting of township council at Harold.

Provincial police at Madoc said William Barlow, 69, R.R. 4, Marmora, suffered possible fractured ribs when his car was involved in a collision with a south bound van.

Mr. Barlow and Blane Reynolds, 19, Marmora, a passenger in the van, were taken to Belleville General Hospital for treatment. Reynolds suffered lacerations to his head.

There was an estimated $500 damage to both the Barlow car and the van. The driver of the van, 17-year-old Ronald Gordon McGregor, escaped injury.

Police said Mr. Barlow was attempting to make a U-turn on the highway when the accident occurred at 7:25 p.m.

Donald Williams heads school board for 1971

From The Intelligencer
Jan. 12, 1971

The newly-elected chairman of Hastings county board of education last night hit at unequal distribution of educational funds among county boards.

Donald Williams of Stirling, chosen last night to head the 17-member board for 1971, said that he had never thought it fair "that one county can spend $600 per pupil a year and we can spend only a little more than $400."

In his remarks at the board's inaugural meeting at Centennial Secondary School, Mr. Williams noted that Hastings county's per pupil costs are less than those of many other counties.

"We have a long way to go to fulfill our goal of equality of education," he told trustees and about 50 visitors in attendance.

He called for the public to take an interest in other areas of education besides elementary and secondary schooling.

The public is very aware of what we spend," he commented. "It should investigate the amount of money spent on post-secondary education in the province — the amount spent on community colleges and universities."

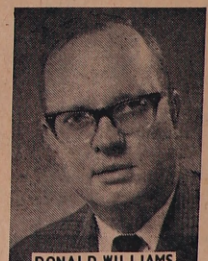

Mr. Williams said professional development of teachers is still the board's top priority. "Modern classrooms and teaching aids are of no avail without a good, qualified teacher in charge," he said.

Mr. Williams called on trustees, administrators, principals and teachers to foster good public relations.

"We have nothing to hide," he asserted. "We've got to tell the public that we are not throwing money away; we are not hiring people we don't need. And we can prove it." He said the ceiling put on educational spending by the minister of education will force boards to take a second look at what they are doing.

"We will have to continue to examine our priorities and make sure we get value for every dollar spent," he said. "If we do a good job we can get the money we need and move ahead."

Mr. Williams paid tribute to director of education Eric Run-acres. "One of the first things we did as a board in 1969 was to hire Mr. Runacres," he said. "I feel that it was one of the best things we did. He is a real asset to education in Hastings county. He succeeded in bringing together the whole county — its administration, principals and teachers."

Everett Fairman of Belleville was elected vice-chairman of the board for 1971. Because of illness he was the only trustee not present at the inaugural meeting.

Senior Citizens off and running

The Senior Citizens met for their first meeting of the new year on Thursday. They all seem to have survived the festive season although several still looked a little butter-balls.

The president, Fred Heasman, welcomed two new couples to the club and hoped that they may return again — Florence and Lloyd Dafoe and Evelyn and Nat. Wannamaker.

The neighboring village of Frankford has opened a new club in the old CNR station and we were glad to have three of its club members visit us — George Pollard, Carmen Frost and Art Osterhout.

Lunch was served by Tilly Senior and Mary Cooke and a nice cake was presented to Hub Faulkner, in honor of his birthday by his wife, Annie.

River Valley WI

Mrs. Vernon Harry was hostess at her home on January 7 for the River Valley Women's Institute. There were 20 members, two visitors and two preschool children in attendance.

Mrs. Roy Tucker, president, opened with the Institute Ode, and the Mary Stewart Collect. She welcomed everyone and thanked those who had assisted with the catering for the teachers' banquet and the Legion party.

Mrs. Gerald Brooks read the minutes and correspondence.

Mrs. J. L. Donohoe gave the financial report. The president said that the various gifts to the shut-ins were distributed before Christmas. Several thank-you notes were read by the secretary, one of which was written on a scenic picture of the Trent River.

The summary day for the Dessert Senior training course will be held at the community hall on Monday, January 11th. A committee was appointed to arrange for the catering on Saturday evening, January 23. A donation of one dollar per member will be sent to Guelph for the expansion of MacDonald Institute.

The February meeting will be held at the centre with Mrs. Philip Conley as hostess.

A letter from Mrs. Austin Zoeller, provincial president, suggested that an open meeting for the community be held once yearly to present institute objectives. The officers' conference will have a wider scope with more departments of work to be studied.

The first institute was organized February 19, 1897 and it is planned to have a special 75th anniversary in 1972. It is hoped that all branches will plan suitable celebrations for next February.

The expansion of MacDonald Institute at Guelph will cost $50,000. To date they have $32,000. It is hoped that each branch will give generously to their own institute project which is the only one on the fee sheet. F.W.I.O. is also stressing up-to-date information and thought-provoking programmes for the year 1971 to 1972, which begins April 1st. The leaders of the Dessert Course, Mrs. Norman Rosebush and Mrs. Ernest Carr are in charge of the plans for Summary Day.

At this time, Mrs. Roy Irven, who has retired as a leader of 4-H Club work after several years, was presented with a gift by Mrs. Gerald Brooks on behalf of the Institute for which she graciously voiced thanks.

A motion to renew the subscription to the Country Woman magazine for five years was authorized.

Mrs. Vernon Harry, treasurer of the centre, gave her report.

The convenors gave brief items of interest. They were, historical, Mrs. Roy Bush; dates of meetings, home economics, Mrs. V. Harry; care in labeling articles, agriculture, Mrs. Glenn Bush (the price of milk will be increased for farmers). For public relations, Mrs. Percy MacMullen, who is a contributing member of A.C.W.I., displayed a program of the Thirtieth Triennial Conference, to be held in Norway in August 1971. Two essays were chosen from Lambeth and Stittsville institutes to send to the World competition. These were chosen on the provincial level and were on the theme, My Countryside - Today and Tomorrow. Mrs. MacMullen also displayed a clipping sent to her from Dundas, Ont., which contained a picture and account of the funeral service of Mrs. VanWagner of Stoney Creek. She was a charter member in February 1897 at the initial meeting of the W.I. movement and she attained the age of 101 years. The president, who is the A.C.W.I. convenor, read an article from The Country Woman magazine which told of a nation seminar of Indian women, held at Colorado, U.S.A. Sixty-eight women represented 43 tribes from 23 states at this first gathering.

Gloria Harry gathered the pennies from friendship and the collection.

The program opened with a poem read by Mrs. George Grills. Mrs. Glen Bush gave a very informative message re the growth of our tourist industry in Hastings County. She displayed a map of the 24 townships, a variety of bulletins and leaflets and read excerpts from the Highlands of Hastings. She also gave a message re the Moira River Conservation Authority based on their progress and achievements from 1947. Bulletins on snowmobile trails in the north of the county and square dancing, a popular recreation for old and young proved of interest.

The roll call was answered with each lady giving a name of a lake, park, snowmobile trail or winter lodge, that she had visited and would recommend to others.

Mrs. Ed. Kent gave a message. She told of what we people are enjoying through the efforts of others, such as the Oak Hills Flying Club, Golf Course and Ski Club, the Col. Vanderwater Memorial Park, which gives pleasure to both old and young.

The meeting closed with the Institute grace. For the social hour, the hostesses and lunch committee served doughnuts and cheese.

Rylstone WI

Mrs. Gerald Barnum and Mrs. Percy Reid were hostesses to Rylstone Women's Institute on Wednesday, when they held their regular January meeting in the W. I. hall. There was an attendance of 14 ladies.

Mrs. Jack Watson, acting president, was in charge of the business, which included the roll call 'men or women who paid the price for what we enjoy today', also the choosing of hostesses for card parties. January parties on the 16th and 30th are Mrs. Ray Stewart and Mrs. Eldon Anderson.

There was a discussion on Achievement Day for the Dessert Demonstrations given in November. It is hoped that several ladies will attend.

Mrs. Hector Arnold, convenor for "Historical Research" introduced Rev. Gordon A. Whitehouse, who showed several pictures taken in Centennial year, as well as other interesting shots of people and events. He was thanked by Mrs. Ellis Jones, on behalf of the Institute, and presented with a small gift.

There was a parade of old-fashioned dresses of the early days of Canada. Mrs. Paul McKeown supplied piano music for the parade and Mrs. Ray Stewart and Mrs. Margaret Osborne acted as judges. First, second and third prize winners were Mrs. Doug Brunton, Mrs. Ellis Jones and Mrs. Annie Dutton. The meeting closed with "God Save The Queen" and the hostesses served fruit breads, pickles and tea.

A Despicable Act

The actions of a lunatic snowmobiler, described elsewhere in this edition in a letter to the editor, surely must go down as one of the ugliest performances of the winter to have occurred in the Stirling area.

As our correspondent states, only a miracle allowed his daughter and her horse to escape death or serious injuries at the hands of this mobile lunatic.

It is difficult to imagine what insanity grips an individual and drives him to take a powered vehicle into pursuit of an animal.

It is even more difficult to comprehend the madness of a snowmobiler who stoops to chase a horse, carrying a human, over icy and slippery roads.

In this case, having checked the facts, the police ought to leave no stone unturned until the culprit is identified and brought to justice.

If it does not already, the law ought to provide stiff jail terms for such senseless idiots who are not content to jeopardize their own safety, but also threaten the lives of innocent people.

This is not to suggest that all snowmobile drivers are reckless. The majority use care and caution in the operation of their machines.
But the sport seems to have attracted more than its share of nincompoops.

Letter to the editor

The Editor,
The Stirling News-Argus.
Sir:

Snowmobiles are much in the news at the moment. It seems that our young people have found a whole new winter sport.

For my part I feel that it is quite possible for them to be doing much worse things than playing with snowmobiles, provided they use them with consideration toward other people.

This last holiday season, I had an experience to which I feel attention should be drawn.

My daughters both have a riding horse. They brought these horses up themselves from foals, and the horses, now almost three years old, are very docile and gentle. The girls, both in their late teens, have a habit of riding their horses down the concession to a trail which is normally hardly ever used that leads to the next sideroad where they have friends whom they visit.

They tell me that they have occasionally met snowmobiles when on their rides, and that the drivers usually slow down and drive past the horses quietly, taking care not to alarm the animals.

However, on New Year's Eve, they met another sort of character altogether. Just as they got to the end of the trail leading to the next sideroad, they met a snowmobile, or more correctly a motor ski, coming out. They drew their horses into the deep snow beside the road and waited for the man to drive
by, as others have done.

This sportsman had other ideas. He opened up his motor and drove straight at the horses.
This had the effect that he apparently desired. He scared the animals witless. They turned back towards home and tore down the icy road at a mad gallop. This, on a road surface where it was barely safe to walk the horses!

My older daughter managed to turn her horse into a friendly neighbor's driveway, and away from the lunatic, who still continued to pursue the younger girl and her horse relentlessly.
He even headed her off when she tried to turn into a driveway as her sister had done.

I was crossing my farmyard when I heard the sound of his motor. I looked up, and to my horror, saw my girl galloping madly over the hill, closely pursued by this madman on a snowmobile.

Knowing the state of the road surface, I expected to see the horse roll over every moment.
However, by some miracle, he kept on his feet, and by another miracle, the girl kept her seat.

He saw his own driveway and turned into it, despite an effort to head him off, he slipped badly as he turned but managed to regain his balance, and by the time they reached the farmyard some 550 yards further on, he was under control.

It was quite on the cards that either of the girls could have sustained a serious or even fatal injury. Also, of course, either of their beloved horses could have fallen to me to put one of their pets out of its misery.

I presume that the half-wit on the motor ski went on his way chortling, having had "A Ball."
That, I believe is the expression.

made on sick and shut-ins the past month. Mrs. Ralph Wellman read the minutes and business was dealt with.

A thank-you card was received from Mrs. Albert Twiddy and also thank-you notes for donations were received from Jack Spencer for his Tyro group, Merryvale School for the Retarded and Quin-Mo-Lac
Camp.

Five plants were taken at Christmas to past members in the hospital, Hastings Manor and the nursing home. Mrs. Murney Mason, treasurer, gave her report for the month and also the past year. The members were reminded of the February meeting which is to be a pot luck dinner meeting.

The president turned the meeting over to the program committee. The worship had been prepared by Mrs. Bill McKeown and was presented by Mrs. D. Fleming in Mrs.
McKeown's absence (Blueprints for a New Year). "Let us Take Inventory", "Let Us Remember to Pray Often", "The Goal", "A Helping Hand", were some of the interesting topics. Mrs.
Clayton Burkitt read the Scripture, followed by prayer.
Several ladies took part in the worship period. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

The hostesses, Mrs. Ralph Wellman and Mrs. Orrie Barton, served lunch and a social time was enjoyed.

320-LB. CALVES IN 4 MONTHS!

Two new calf rations—new, Magic Formula Purina Nursing Chow and new Purina Startena—can help you raise big, husky calves months earlier than slow-poke sisters feed other ways.

New Nursing Chow contains extra energy and more digestible proteins that help get calves off to a fast, healthy start. It mixes in seconds, won't settle out, flows through nipple pails and automatics without clogging.

New Calf Startena is higher in energy, lower in fiber, and more digestible than ever before. It keeps calves growing and gaining so they're big enough to breed at 12 to 15 months.

Call or visit us whenever you have calves to raise. And feed them the Purina way... on new Purina Nursing Chow and new Calf Startena.

NOBLE'S REXALL DRUGS

PHONES: DAY 395-2110; NIGHT 395-2194

Loyalist planning Arts Open house

An Open House to which the public is invited is being planned by the Communication Arts Department of Loyalist College for the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, January 27.

Communication Arts has become one of the largest and most popular courses in the applied arts and business division of the College since it was introduced in 1968.

Six subjects are taught in the department: television, journalism, photography, radio, motion pictures and advertising. New subjects to be introduced shortly are: performing arts and graphic design.

The course is designed both as a vocational course and for general interest. Students work directly with the latest equipment to produce their own newspaper, radio program, television shows and movies.

Many television programs are designed for eventual telecast over cable facilities. A radio program (from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. each Wednesday) is broadcast live over CJBQ-FM.

Commencing at 3 p.m. all of the department will be open to the public and high school students from 3 p.m. until 10 p.m. The radio studio will be on display after the 4 p.m. broadcast.

In issuing the invitation to the Open House, Communication Arts Supervisor Ray Cunningham invites anyone interested to come to the College and browse around the various facilities and chat with staff and students.

Sample TV programs, radio tapes and slides will be on display in Building A, Rooms 26, 41, 42, 43 and 47.

A sound and light show will be presented in the student lounge.

A FAMILY AFFAIR

Among the Air Defence Command "family teams" is Corporal A. E. Lawes whose parents Mr. and Mrs. Allen

Lawes live at 50 John St. in Stirling. He is currently posted to Canadian Forces Base North Bay as an Orderly Room Supervisor. Corporal Lawes is married to the former Alice Dyda whose mother, Mrs. Emily Dyda, lives in

Regina. She holds the rank of Private and is assigned as a Stock Record Card Clerk

Air Defence — A family business

NORTH BAY — Most Canadians are familiar with the role of the "family business" in Canadian history. Whether it was a small general store operated by a husband-wife team, the blacksmith shop run by the blacksmith and his son, or a trading centre run by several brothers, the "family business" was traditionally known for its quality and reliability.

Today, the Canadian Forces Air Defence Command (ADC) charged with protecting the nation against an enemy air attack, carries on this tradition, for ADC is a "family business", made up of military families at radar sites and bases from coast to coast. Among its ranks are fathers and sons, husbands and wives, and brothers — all proudly wearing the green uniform of the Canadian Armed Forces.

Although most ADC members find it an asset to have more than one "serviceman" in the family, unusual situations do arise. At Canadian Forces Base North Bay, Ont., Headquarters for ADC and the 22nd North American Air Defence Command (NORAD) Region, the Leblanc brothers cause many puzzled looks. The identical-twin brothers are both assigned to the 702 Communications Detachment. Just when a supervisor is certain he's talking to Daniel, he finds out it's really Dennis. The Girard brothers at Canadian Forces Station Yorkton, Sask., aren't twins, but the two sergeants look enough alike to cause some confusion. (Fortunately for those trying to identify them, Joseph and Leo work in different sections.)

At CFB Cold Lake, Alta., the Bak brothers have their own problem. Can you imagine a husband going to see his wife, only to find her in a "restricted area"? But for George and Nola Bak, her job in the Classified Registry in no way deters from their appreciation of "serving together."

Should a call be made to "Corporal War" at CFB Chatham, N.B., the caller must say which one. Two of the War brothers are Corporals (Neil and Ralph), while the third (Guy) is a Warrant Officer. Chatham's three Perry Brothers don't create quite as much confusion, since their ranks are Corporal (J.E.), Sergeant (Joseph) and Master Warrant Officer (Lawrence). Of course, if you're at CFS Sioux Lookout, Ont., and ask for the radar technician named "Rolfe", you may get Private George or his brother Corporal Danny. There's less confusion at Chatham with the Macneil brothers. Although both work in maintenance, Master Warrant Officer E. R. is with surface transportation while Warrant Officer Walter works on ADC's 1200 MPH CF-101 fighter-interceptors. The Sioux radar site also has the Hackett family in the Supply Section — husband, Corporal Leroy and wife, Private Marie. If you want to talk to a pilot at CFB Bagotville, P.Q., named "Captain Speiser", be sure you specify Jim or Dave. Both brothers fly the supersonic CF-101's.

If Major Peter Simpson at North Bay sees a Military Police vehicle pull alongside his at a stop sign, he is not surprised to hear the MP shout "Hi, Dad." His son, Mark, is with the base security force, while the Major is ADC's Senior Staff Officer for Security. At CFS Lamacara, P.Q., Corporal Rene Pellerin is an MP and his brother Jean, also a Corporal, works in the transport section. For Master Corporal Angeline Duncan of CFS Val d'Or, P.Q., the nearest MP is her husband David, also a Corporal. If Military Policeman Dirk Donker of Cold Lake needs a nursing assistant, he need only call his wife, Frances, also a Corporal. Corporals J. M. Ferris, D. E. Lathigee, J. E. Lapointe and Private C. S. Ladouceur of Cold Lake are also married to military nursing assistants.

For Cold Lake's Captain G. D. Clark, married military life has seriously curtailed a basic military privilege — complaining about the food. Captain Clark's wife, Lieutenant Sheila Clark, is Base Food Services Officer. What about the weather at the base? Well, for Private Carole Leclerc, a records clerk, it's just a matter of asking her husband, Private Rene, a meteorological technician. At North Bay, Corporal Joseph Barrio of the Transportation Section can call his brother Corporal Dale, at the 22nd NORAD Region's Weather Centre.

These then are only a few of the "family teams" who serve Canada as members of the Canadian Forces Air Defence Command. Perhaps Commissioner Alexander Pyke, CFS Sydney, N.S., summed up their feelings when he was asked what it was like to serve at the same unit as his son David, a private. Pyke replied, "I'm extremely proud."

Reeve Anderson backs Minor Hockey Week

Reeve Robert Anderson is again calling upon all citizens to organize and operating the many leagues and games for our youngsters. By their work they are providing our youngsters with an opportunity to play hockey. Out of this comes better bodies, healthier minds, better boys and better citizens. What greater reward can we hope for?" he asked.

In announcing his support of young Canada's most important week, His Worship suggested that the local citizenry would "do well to keep in step with Canada" by attending minor hockey games this week.

"It is our duty, and I share it with every local citizen," he said, "to show our appreciation of the efforts of those who make participation in Canada's National Sport possible for our youngsters. Minor Hockey Week is Canada's most successful amateur sports promotion, and it is our duty to see that the local observance is equal to that of any in Canada."

The reeve pointed out that Stirling has a minor hockey program operating here that does not need to take a back seat to any in the country, but, he said, "it needs our support."

"The best way to support the program is by buying a ticket. That starts a chain of events that really supports the local project. First, the money helps finance the program. Then, the ticket induces us to attend, and our presence encourages the youngsters and those whose efforts are necessary to the success of the local league."

He urged, however, that our support should not stop at encouragement. The reeve went on to say that "we must pay public tribute to the men, and ladies, who spend so many hours organizing and operating the many leagues and games for our youngsters. By their work they are providing our youngsters with an opportunity to play hockey. Out of this comes better bodies, healthier minds, better boys and better citizens. What greater reward can we hope for?" he asked.

He did, however, go on to voice another hope — that one day, one or more of our boys may make the Canadian National Team, and thus represent our town and our league on the National team as it carries the name of Canada into international competition. Then we shall have just reason to be proud of our town, our boys and of the men who made it all possible."

The reeve concluded by saying "Because participation in Canada's National Sport provides healthy exercise that will improve the body, discipline that will train the mind, teach co-operation, team play and a respect for rules, the boys are sure to benefit. When the boys benefit, the community benefits, and because the community benefits, the community must contribute. We do this best by supporting Minor Hockey Week. I can suggest no better way than by observance of the official slogan, which is 'don't send — take your boy to the arena', and if you do not have a boy of your own, drop in and watch the others. I know you'll enjoy it."

Snowdrifters membership 56 families

There are 85 snow vehicles owned by residents of the village of Stirling, a report to the village council by the Stirling Snowdrifters Club said Monday night. Many families in the village own more than one machine.

The Snowdrifters, a family-type recreational group which takes no part in snowmobile racing activities, now has a membership of 56 families, the majority of these living in the village of Stirling. The present limit set by the club as to the maximum number of members is 60, but Douglas Robson told council that this limit may not hold. He said the club is trying to persuade members living outside the village to organize their own local snow vehicle clubs.

The Snowdrifters, who have recently placed a number of trash cans along some of the common snowmobile trails, also have a request before council for assistance in a safety campaign.

Fresh Vegetables Make Slim-Trim Hors D'Oeuvre

You don't have to have post-holiday horrors from jumping on the scale and finding that you have put on all those pounds! Be clever and the hors d'oeuvre you serve during the festive season, and you can save substantially on calories that often accompany "nibble" foods. Gather together at your market a bright, zesty array of vegetables—carrots, celery, cucumber, cauliflower and mushrooms. Serve them in bite-size pieces with a lower-calorie dip made with cottage cheese, blue cheese, and fresh tomato and chives. How cheerily they crunch, and how refreshing in the midst of rich holiday dishes. Later comes another delight when the scale tells you and your guests that Slim-Trim Hors D'Oeuvre are a calorie-saving treat.

Slim-Trim Vegetable Hors D'Oeuvre
2 cups (1 pound) cottage cheese
1/2 cup skimmed milk
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon chopped chives
1 tomato, peeled and chopped

Combine cottage cheese and milk in container of electric blender; cover and process at high speed until smooth and creamy. Transfer to mixing bowl. Add salt, chives, tomato and blue cheese; mix well. Chill until serving time. Garnish with additional chopped tomato and chives; serve with vegetables. Makes about 2 1/2 cups dip.

*To make carrot curls, use vegetable peeler to shave lengthwise strips from pared carrot. Curl each strip around finger, fasten with wooden pick and crisp in ice water for 1 or 2 hours.

SPEAKING OF SPORT

After some hot talk in the dressing room, Stirling came back in quick pursuit. Ken Jackett led the third period in scoring 3 goals assisted by Dennis Little, Wally Blakeley and Tom Reid. Other scorers in the third period were Kevin Solmes from Byron Hubble and Byron Hubble in alone on the final goal. The Bantam's standings are now, played 15 games, won 7, lost 7 and tied 1.

In other Monday night play, the Stirling Midgets dominated Wellington by defeating them 16 to 2. Scoring in the first period were Mike Hunter from Bill Jackett and Doug Morton, Ken Hodgson from Fred Sills, Mike Hunter from Doug Morton, Bill Jackett from Rick Williams, Bill Jackett from Mike Hunter and Ron Andrews from Bill Jackett. Robbie Arbuckle led the second period off with two goals. First was from Ken Hodgson and Dale Bamber and the second from Dale Bamber. Also scoring in the second period was Bill Jackett with two goals, both from Mike Hunter. Scores in the third period went to Dale Bamber with two goals from Robbie Arbuckle and Robbie Arbuckle from Ken Hodgson and Dale Bamber on the 13th and 14th goals of the game. Don Campbell receiving help from Bill Jackett and Mike Hunter assisted by Bill Jackett ended the scoring of the game. Wellington picked up their two goals at the 15 and 5 minute marks of the third period. Stirling Midgets' standings are now, played 16 games, won 15 and tied 1. I think these standings show the Midget team ready for playoffs or that there's a lack of competition in the area. Their final game before the playoffs will be in Marmora on Saturday night.

Also on Monday night hockey, the Stirling Juveniles travelled to Marmora to play. Stirling defeated Marmora 5 to 3 with goals scored by Jack DeBruyn, Dwayne Pyear, Steve Bedard, Gord Philips and Neil Armstrong. Juveniles' next game will be Friday night against Norwood.

The following is a list of games to be played this week in Minor League Hockey:

Tuesday, January 19 - Bantam; Stirling at Brighton.

Friday, January 22 - Pee Wee, Tweed at Stirling, 7 p.m.; Juvenile, Norwood at Stirling, 9 p.m.; Girls, Stirling at Colborne. Saturday, January 23 - Pee Wee, Stirling at Brighton; Midget, Stirling at Marmora; Novice, Stirling at Wellington; Girls, Marmora at Stirling, 6:30 p.m.

Presbyterian Women

The St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Women held their meeting at the church, Thursday, Jan. 14 with 14 ladies in attendance.

Mrs. D. Fargey opened the meeting and called on Mrs. R. Taylor to install the officers for 1971. Mrs. K. Tompkins read the slate of officers which had been listed by Mrs. S. Boyce.

Following the installation, Mrs. Fargey turned the proceedings over to Mrs. K. Ray, acting president for January. A verse of the hymn "At Thy Feet, Our God and Father" was sung with Mrs. R. Taylor as musician.

The worship period was conducted by Mrs. Ray with Mrs. J. Johnston, Miss G. Spry and Mrs. D. Fargey reading different meditations based on Psalm 8, stressing God's glory magnified by His works and love. Mrs. Ray offered prayer. Two verses of the hymn, "Lord of all Being Throned Afar" was sung. Mrs. Ray concluded this period with an appropriate verse.

The collection was received by Mrs. J. Johnston and dedicated by Mrs. Ray.

The minutes and correspondence were read by the secretary, Mrs. K. Tompkins. Mrs. R. Eggleton reported the appreciation of those at Evangel Hall, Toronto, for the parcel of gifts and clothing which she and Mr. Eggleton had delivered there.

Miss Gena Spry gave the financial report, including the purchase of new carpet at the manse.

There was discussion on catering to a wedding and an anniversary. Mrs. K. Tompkins spoke in connection with the banquet, Jan. 21.

Mrs. B. Cook consented to represent this organization at the planning meeting being held towards the "World's Day of Prayer" in March.

Mrs. K. Ray had secured a film entitled "On The Rim of Tomorrow", which Mr. Eugene Burrell assisted in showing. The picture was based on conditions in the Far East, showing the advancement from their old way of living, when idols were worshipped, means of producing food were so difficult, no education, no Christianity, to what is beginning to break open in their country in the way of hospitals, schools, factories, Christian groups beginning to get together. These Christian groups are a very small minority. They are finding Christianity a great challenge, being accepted more by young people who find it very difficult to even discuss the matter with their parents. The big question is, who is to lead these people who are beginning to see Christianity?

Mrs. Ray thanked Mr. Burrell and presented him with a gift. Mrs. Ray also presented gifts, acknowledging birthdays and anniversaries in January.

Mrs. B. Cook gave a report on the meeting of Kingston Presbyterian, W.M.S., held at St. Andrew's, Trenton, on Jan. 13. Six ladies attended from Stirling.

Mrs. J. Johnston, mission treasurer, insisted that it was a must, that the ladies put more money to missions. Mrs. D. Fargey strongly sanctioned Mrs. Johnston's remarks.

The ladies decided to take out membership to the Film Board, making it possible for films to be used with any organization of the church.

This very interesting meeting was concluded with all repeating the Mizpah benediction.

Refreshments were served by the lunch committee.

MAKE YOUR OWN COMEDY IN PICTURES AND CAPTIONS

Hush, pups... let sleeping dogs lie. Actually, the dogs say twins are taking a paw for refreshment. Put a flea in their ear that you'd like to take their picture. But don't hound them, and don't litter the place with equipment.

Summary Day in Stirling

On Monday afternoon, Jan. 11, the Hastings County summary day was held at the Stirling Community Hall with 150 women in attendance. Last October there were 17 senior training groups who took the subject "desserts" under the supervision of the Home Economist, Miss Elaine Bateman, and all but two were represented with their leaders at the summary day event.

Groups represented were: Bay of Quinte, Bannockburn and Eldorado, Cooper and Remington, Harts-Riggs, Ivanhoe, Madoc, Marmora, Pinegrove, Plainfield, Queensboro, River Valley, Rylstone, Sidney South, Springbrook, Uniondale and Walbridge.

At one o'clock, Miss Bateman welcomed the group and introduced Marilyn Rose, Foods and Nutrition Specialist, Home Economics Branch, Toronto. She presented the leaders badges and later in the program she gave various comments on the individual reports. Mrs. Pat Tracey was chairman for the reports when each group gave an outline of their course. A few held all-day meetings while others sponsored two evening classes. Along with the reports, Ivanhoe and River Valley each gave a song with all of their group participating. Sidney

South entertained with a humorous skit, while others read poems on the subject.

Mrs. Pearl Tokley gave an interesting demonstration on the art of cake decorating and gave several helpful hints for making flowerettes and scrolls.

Each group provided desserts and these were later served buffet style by the committee in charge who included Mrs. Norman Rosebush, Mrs. Ernest Carr and Mrs. Ivan Clare.

Springbrook

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Chapman and girls of Cooper, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sedore, Kim and Kevin on Sunday.

Mr. Stewart Brownson spent Thursday at London.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Mason and Shauna Carr, Scarborough, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Mason and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heath.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel McKeown, Campbellford, visited Mrs. Fred McKeown on Sunday.

Angela Tanner, Oshawa, is spending some time with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray.

Mrs. Esther Leonard, Havelock, spent the weekend at her home here.

Mr. Thomas McKeown is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Auger at Bethel.

Rylstone WI card party

Rylstone Women's Institute held its fourth card party of the season in the W. I. hall on Saturday evening. Even though the season has been so busy, there were six tables in play.

Prize winners were: couple coming farthest, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Anderson of Hastings; ladies' high score, Mrs. Frank Elmhurst, Havelock; ladies' low score, Mrs. Howard Anderson; gent's high score, Stanley Kerr; gent's low score, Charlene Finch (playing as a man); ladies' travelling prize, Mrs. Albert Hay, Stanwood; men's travelling prize, Howard Anderson.

The next card party will be held in the hall January 16.

Ivanhoe Institute

Mrs. Gladys Currie opened her home for the first meeting of the Institute in 1971. The president opened the meeting with the Institute Ode and Mary Stewart Collect.

Roll call was answered and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Each convenor gave a short report and then the rest of the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Kellar, the convenor for Canadian Industries. She opened this part of the meeting with the motto, "If we don't plant proudly when we are young, it will give us no shade when we are old."

Readings were given by Alice Wood, Mabel Irwin, Mrs. Currie and Mrs. Kellar.

Mrs. Roeper composed a piece of music for Summary Day which fitted in with the short course on desserts. It was entitled "Bring Back, Bring Back My Figure to Me". All the institute ladies sang this piece again at the Institute meeting.

Miss Haggerty played a piano solo. The collection was received and Edna Tanner thanked Mrs. Currie for opening her home and all those who took part on the programme.

The meeting closed with "O Canada" and Institute Grace and Mrs. Currie and her assistants served coffee, tea, soda biscuits, cheese and pickles.

You can still rock 'n' roll

The attendance at Senior Citizens on Thursday was 45, including five visitors from the Frankford club. Ernie Munro wonders why it's always men who come when there are 145 widows down there. Frankford, can't you send some of these girls out to make our 80-year-old Ernie happy?

Birthday greetings were sung to Evelyn Finkle. Yup, she was a year older and doesn't look it. Flossie Geen and Margaret Ward did a good job on the chuck wagon.

An oversize cribbage board was donated to the club by Gladys and Charlie Smith, and we say to them thank you kindly.

Will you be on time 2 p.m. next week as we will be playing progressive euchre. Prizes have been donated.

Did you know that paper money was more valuable than coins, because when you put it in your pocket you double it and when you take it out, you find it still in creases?

A senior citizen, even if he or she has arthritis, can still rock 'n' roll by simply putting wheels on their rocking chairs.

Dis Ole Scribe.

Congratulations

Congratulations are in order to Donald R. Williams of Stirling who was elected last week as chairman of the Hastings County Board of Education for the current year.

Given his background and experience, Mr. Williams was a logical choice to head the board in 1971. We have no doubt but that he will bring distinction to this office as he has in many others spheres of public service in the past.

In addition to bringing personal honor to Mr. Williams, the appointment is a feather in the cap of Stirling, whose citizens continue to take leading roles in the progress of Hastings County.

Higher Costs Inevitable

One of the toughest jobs of politicians, particularly those on the local level, is to announce an increase in taxes or rates charged against the public.

The latest instance in Stirling was last week's announcement by Donald W. Rodgers, chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, that electricity costs will be higher starting next May.

Higher costs of goods and services, with each passing year, seem to have become characteristic of the times, although it must be said the public attitude against the constant rising of prices appears to be hardening in some quarters.

In the case of Hydro rates in Stirling, few people will argue loudly about the necessity of an increase this year, particularly in view of the fact it has been 11 years since the last one. Past commissions are to be commended for the efficiency with which the local PUC has operated here.

We also think the commission was well-advised to announce the proposed increase well ahead of the effective date. Budget conscious families and businessmen now have several months to prepare for the raise in rates.

One of the growing tendencies today is for elected representatives to withhold what they believe to be unpleasant news from the people who elected them. It is gratifying to see the local PUC taking the opposite stance.

GIRLS HOCKEY SCHEDULE

The Stirling girls' hockey won their first game of the 1971 season when they played against Frankford at the arena there. The score for that game was 4 to 0.

Those scoring for Stirling were Susan Wright, two, Brenda Hay, one and Sharon Haggerty, one.

Former Oak Hills pilot killed

Harold Wannamaker, Trenton air force veteran was killed last Thursday when his single engine Chipmunk crashed in a field 10 miles north of Bowmanville.

Mr. Wannamaker was a former flying instructor at the Oak Hills Flying Club.

Patrick Crawley, a passenger in the aircraft, is in satisfactory condition in Oshawa General Hospital after emergency surgery.

Mr. Wannamaker and his friend were taking aerial photographs of the area when the aircraft went into a tight left turn at about 500 feet and crashed, breaking off the left wing.

A bomber pilot during the war, Mr. Wannamaker stayed in the forces for some time
following the general demobilization. He was an acrobatic instructor and won the national award one year ago. He was a member of Trenton Legion branch.

GIRL CONQUERS DISABILITY

The 1971 Billboard Girl for The Ability Fund (March of Dimes) is Mrs. Sarah King, formerly of Fort William and now of Toronto, who had polio at the age of two. She wears a leg brace and gets about on crutches. Sarah, shown with her baby Lalena, credits The Ability Fund with helping her to live like other girls.

Fund helps disabled

The Ability Fund, which used to be known as the March of Dimes, is the name of the campaign of the Rehabilitation Foundation for the Disabled which was founded in Ontario in 1951 as a chapter of the Canadian Foundation for Poliomyelitis. Its present name was adopted in 1961 to reflect its concern for all disabled adults, no matter what accident or disease was responsible for their disability.

The prime concern of the Foundation is rehabilitating disabled adults - that is, helping them to join or re-join the community as productive, relatively self-sufficient and happy parts of it. Finding suitable work for disabled adults has therefore become one of the fund's principal objectives.

The Foundation has eleven workshops in different parts of the province: Windsor, Kitchener, St. Catharines, Hamilton, Toronto, Kingston, Ottawa, Sudbury, Timmins, Sault Ste. Marie and Thunder Bay. In these shops, which are operated under the name of Rehabilitation Industries Ontario, workers are paid according to efficiency. In other words, they are rated as being able to produce at, say, 60 per cent of normal efficiency, or 80 per cent, or more. This not only ensures that they will be paid a fair wage, but it gives them an incentive to upgrade themselves.

The Ability Fund is part of the Rehabilitation Foundation for the Disabled - a helping hand for disabled adults in Ontario. A contribution to The Ability Fund - or anywhere in Canada to any activity or project carrying the symbol of the evergreen tree with a missing branch - is an assist to disabled adults.

Grant approved

Clarke T. Rollins, M.L.A. for Hastings, has announced that he has been advised by George A. Kerr, Minister of Energy and Resources Management, that approval has been given for a provincial grant of $750,000 to the Lower Trent Region Conservation Authority for additional expenditure for the land acquisition programme in the King's Mill Conservation Area.

WARNING ISSUED

From time to time a very serious illness or even death occurs in case of babies below 6 months of age that are given to drink water containing nitrates. There is no danger of it in places on Communal Water Supply, and babies above the age of six months would not be affected.

It is, however, advisable that people using water from wells and having little babies at home or expecting their arrival should have the water tested for nitrates. Boiling of the water or any chemical action does not help.

Advice and bottles for submission of specimens can be obtained from your Public Health Nurse or Public Health Inspector.

Among The Books

At the January meeting of the Stirling Library Board, Mrs. D. Patterson was re-elected chairman for the coming year. Other members are W. Camm, treasurer; Mrs. Mrs. A. Wells, R. Hulin, and Reeve Robert Anderson.

Among the new books on the Public Library shelves are some thought-provoking studies of the world in which we live. "Cities on the Move" by Arnold Toynbee, the famous historian, is a book that traces the history of the development of cities, and all they express about the human community, with a projection of the coming "world city" and the imperative need to profit from past mistakes.

"The Quality of Life" by James Michener, expresses this well-known writer's views on the world environment and his hopes for a better future.

"The Poverty Wall" by Ian Adams is a controversial book, unashamedly biased, but forcibly depicting the contrast in the lives of "comfortable" Canadians and those trapped behind the "poverty wall."

"Without Reserve" by Sheila Burnford, is an affectionate and understanding look at the northern forest Indians, by the author of "The Incredible Journey," who, together with artist Susan Ross, has often visited the Cree and Ojibwa tribes with no ulterior motives, but simply in friendship to learn of their way of life.

Max Braithwaite's entertaining reminiscences of the first quarter of the century in Canada's West, "Never Sleep Three in a Bed", will delight his readers, and proved unexpectedly thought-provoking, too.

Fiction titles include "Hallowe'en Party" by Agatha Christie; "The Ghosts' High Noon" by John Dickson Carr; "Crime on their Hands" by Dell Shannon; "The Grimshaw Memorandum" by Lional White; "For Love of a Doctor" by Elizabeth Seifert. "The Rock" by John Masters is a novel with much factual information about Gibraltar - its past and present. "The Edible Woman" is the first novel by Canadian poet Margaret Atwood, and is an off-beat and diverting look at modern society.

For readers interested in "make it" hobbies, "Creating with Leather" by Elsie Hanauer offers simple instructions in this activity. It is well illustrated, and describes the materials and tools and designs to make many attractive articles. So, Happy New Year, and Happy Reading!

PAINTED TURTLE

A common, widely distributed turtle found in marshes, swamps, around lakes and along rivers and streams. It ranges across southern Canada to the foothills. Average length about 6 inches (shell). The under-shell (plastron) has a bright pattern of red and yellow, less pronounced in the eastern form. The upper shell (carapace) is dark greenish-black with some red or yellow on the edge plates, the head is black with bold yellow stripes. Food, chiefly vegetable matter, insects and crustaceans.

Huntingdon township council meets

The inaugural meeting of Huntingdon Township Council was held in the Township Hall at 11 a.m. The following council members took their oath of allegiance:

Reeve-Russell Sills, Deputy Reeve-George Wood, Councilors-Francis Thompson, Harold Thompson and John Wuite.

DOLLARS AND GOOD SENSE

By William J. Martin
Mr. Martin serves as special consultant to Avco Financial Services. All questions should be sent to him at P.O. Box 5875, London, Ontario, Canada. Those containing a name and address will be answered in this column or by direct return mail. No names will be used in print.

Dear Mr. Martin:

My automobile insurance agent just told me that my new premium was going to be nearly 50 per cent higher than my current policy, even though I'm a safe driver with no accidents or tickets. He said the reason for the increase was based on increased auto repair bills and how easy it is to cause major damage to cars. He said rates would go down if cars were designed better. Is this true, and if it is, what can be done to make this happen?

are not able to withstand even minor collisions without sustaining major damage or repair bills. This has been forcing insurance rates up, but help is on the way.

Look for less fragile cars in the near future, and cheaper automobile parts and big changes in collision and liability insurance premiums.

Studies have already been made on the vulnerability of different cars. In one test, a dozen 1970 model cars were driven into a wall at five miles per hour. Damage ranged from $120 to over $300. In one 15 MPH test crash, more than $1,000 damage was caused.

A bill has already been introduced in Congress in the United States that would tie premium rates to repair bills and require that insurance rates be published so U.S. motorists could consider insurance costs when deciding on an automobile purchase.

These actions have put pressure on Detroit to produce a sturdier and less powerful brand of cars and to reduce the cost of parts.

Another study found that it cost more than $15,000 in parts and labor to assemble a car that had a list price of $3,500. Some manufacturers have already begun to lower their prices on certain parts.

You may lend your voice to the cause by letting your insurance company and the automobile manufacturers know how you feel.

CENTENNIAL REPORT

A report by Thom Reynolds from Centennial Secondary School, Palmer Road, Belleville

On Thursday afternoon of last week, eight students from the Stirling area accompanied other members of Centennial Senior Band in a 40-minute concert at Stirling Senior Public School. Members from Stirling included Lynda Walker, Ruth Lee, Elaine Williams, Danny Jones, Barry Linn, Paul Jones, Rick Farrell and John Williams. The band is composed of 62 students and is directed by M. J. Emmerson of the Music Department of Centennial.

It was announced this past week that no students from the Stirling area would be attending the new composite school at Bayside. The area taken in by this new school, hopefully to open in September, will be south of the 5th concession of Sidney and west of the Montrose Road. The new school, with a proposed student population of 800, will be for Grades 9, 10 and 11, leaving Centennial with approximately 1,360 students instead of its present 1,540.

students. Further details concerning the Bayside school will be published in February.

Wednesday night, January 27, at 8 p.m., there will be a special Open House for parents of Mediterranean 71 students at Centennial. Mediterranean 71 is a cruise which enables students to spend about two weeks aboard ship or on shore tours learning at first hand about the Mediterranean region. In attendance at the meeting will be the president of the New World Education Cruises and Deputy-Director of Education for British and India Steamships. Students going on this cruise have been receiving instalments of a special Newsletter which deals with preparation and activities on the cruise. Next week will be the beginning of a special three-part series on Mediterranean 71 in this paper. This past week, students of Centennial who will be returning in September arranged their Course Programs for 1971-72.

Brotherly Love?
Dear Margaret Brookfield: My husband, who had been ill for some time, passed away last year. Throughout his illness and his death, his family, and particularly his older brother, have been very kind to me, helping me and my three children in many ways. Although my husband's brother has declared himself, I just feel it in my bones that he's going to get serious and ask me to marry him. (He recently became a widower himself.) I like him very much, but feel he's more like family than a suitor and that it's not right for me to encourage him. What do you think?
A.Q., Dallas, Tex.

Dear A.Q.: If you like him, why not encourage him? You already have a lot in common. But if you want to give yourself more time, of course, and I'm sure he'll understand. Marriages of this sort happen often. And there's every reason - if the people involved are compatible - for the marriage to work out well. *****

Cranky With Everyone
Dear Margaret Brookfield: I have become very nervous and irritable lately, cranky with everyone and sometimes ready to jump out of my skin. I've always had a pretty easy-going disposition so I can't understand what's happening to me. Sometimes I wonder if I'm losing my mind.
S.G., Lihue, Hawaii.

Dear S.G.: Any number of factors might be involved, ranging from personal problems to the state of the world. Also, you don't say how old you are. If, for example, you're between 40 and 50, your symptoms might be connected with the menopause. Nervousness and irritability are often characteristic of this time of change. Why not see your doctor? If your problem is menopause, he might suggest estrogen therapy as many physicians now do, to alleviate such symptoms and improve your sense of well-being. Go see him soon and talk it all over with him. He'll know what to do. *****

Right About Rights?
Dear Margaret Brookfield: What do you think of all this talk about women's rights? I'm 62 and believe that women today have a lot more rights than I had when I was a girl. Why are they complaining so much? It seems to me that they ought to be satisfied with what they've got instead of bellyaching about it.
C.R., Beardstown, Ill.

They certainly do have more rights. Less than 50 years ago a school teacher was not allowed to get married, dress in bright colors, dye her hair, wear skirts more than two inches above the ankle, or get into a carriage or automobile with any man except her father or brother. She was also required to wear at least two petticoats and - unless she was attending a school function - to be home every night between 8 p.m. and 6 a.m. True, we women have more rights now, but why should we quit when we're moving ahead?

WORK OR PLAY SAFER?
An analysis of hunting accidents based on the number of hours of participation indicate at least in one study of Ontario that it is safer to go hunting than to work.

Nasturtiums in January

Having heard of roses in December, we would like to "go one better." Mrs. Ellis Jones brought in a bouquet of nasturtiums after the first killing frost last fall. One flower rooted, so Mrs. Jones potted it, and it now has nasturtiums in bloom in her south window, where the temperature dropped to 26 degrees below zero on the other side of the glass one night recently.

Bus franchise changes hands

Bert Jones of Stirling, one of the largest bus distributors in Ontario, announced recently that he has disposed of the distributorship of Blue Bird Buses.

The distributorship has been awarded to North Eastern Blue Bird Bus Sales Ltd., with offices in Kingston, Huntsville and North Bay. This company also has engaged the services of Mr. Jones' secretary, Sandra Whitmore, who will handle Blue Bird calls at the Kingston office.

In Stirling, Mr. Jones will be continuing in the school bus business only in the reconditioning, rebuilding and painting which his firm has been doing for a number of years.

Mr. Jones has been in the bus distribution for nine years. Late in 1970, for the seventh year in a row, he was the recipient of two outstanding awards at the International Blue Bird Bus Dealers' convention held in Atlanta, Georgia.

He won the President's Award for outstanding representation during the year 1970 and a plaque for achieving his sales goal during the same year.

Conservation Authority To Get Resources Study

STUDYING CONSERVATION AREA

C. G. MacDonald, right, reviews an area plan with Branch, Chairman of the Lower Trent Resources Manager John White of the Conservation Authorities.

The Lower Trent Region Conservation Authority will receive its resources study report from Energy and Resources Management Minister George Kerr at ceremonies in the Batawa Community Hall next Tuesday.

The report, based on the outcome of detailed studies carried out over the past two years by the Conservation Authorities Branch, describes the resources of the region and proposes ways and means of effective future management.

"The conservation report is, in essence, a blueprint for the future, a flexible plan which will provide for the orderly management and development of the lands and waters in the best interests of the Lower Trent Region community and the province as a whole," Mr. Kerr explained in announcing publication of the three-volume report.

The report pulls no punches in zeroing in on some major watershed problems, including pollution. It notes that a special situation exists because the river from Rice Lake to the Bay of Quinte is already showing the effects of pollution and eutrophication.

Industrial sources of pollution along the Lower Trent are identified at Campbellford, Trenton, Brighton and Colborne. Other sources of pollution are private homes discharging sewage directly into water courses, leaching from garbage dumps, and animal wastes.

Mr. Kerr emphasized that one of the most important tasks of the Conservation Authority will be to work with other agencies, such as the Ontario Water Resources Commission, to protect the water from impairment by clearing Rice Lake and the Trent River and its tributaries of pollution, and ensuring that they are kept clean.

The report also takes note of potential recreation opportunities, suggesting that provision be made for a wide range of outdoor activities and that the entire landscape be viewed as an integral part of the recreation environment.

In the area of flood control and water conservation, several measures are recommended, among them flood plain zoning and acquisition, channel improvements, dyking, flood proofing, reservoirs, flood warning systems and ponds.

Other situations dealt with in the report are land stabilization and erosion control, land acquisition for forest purposes, access to and development of trout fishing streams for public use, particularly by children, and acquisition and development of wildlife management areas.

The Lower Trent Region Conservation Authority was formed by Order-in-Council on May 16, 1968. The region covers an area of 795 square miles comprising the lower part of the Trent River watershed and the watersheds of the smaller streams entering the Bay of Quinte and Lake Ontario. It runs from the west boundary of the Meyers Creek watershed east of Trenton to the west boundary of the Township of Haldimand.

The Conservation Authority is composed of 17 member municipalities with 18 municipal representatives and three local appointees of the provincial government. Cy MacDonald of Carrying Place is the present chairman, Bill Lawson of Trenton, secretary-treasurer.

Shur Gain Feeds also are available at Stirling Farm and Garden Supply.

Another facet of the outlet's service will be the home and garden line where they plan to handle all gardening needs such as seeds, fertilizer and garden hardware.

On Jan. 16, the grand opening brought more than 500 people through the doors in sub-zero temperatures to see what the new Stirling Farm and Garden Supply had to offer.

All ladies in attendance received rose corsages, compliments of Ralston Purina, and an attractive Purina glass.

Great quantities of Purina Puppy Chow were given away. In addition, many Canada Packers hams were taken home by people who made any $10 purchase.

Senior Citizens add 3 members

It was rough and stormy outside on Thursday but in the Senior Citizens' Club room, everything was cheery as over 50 enjoyed progressive euchre and dominoes.

At euchre the two high ladies were Mary Cooke and Fanny Kane. The two high men were William Fitchett and Percy MacMullen. Margaret Ward was champion at dominoes. Iva Aythart was rewarded for holding the lucky cup.

Two buckets were conversing at the fountain. "You're a little pail!" said the one. "Yes," replied the other. "I'm not a wet bucket."

Fred Heasman, president, was happy to welcome three new members—Dorothy Summers and Freda and Ernie Broadworth. He also thanked Ross Hord for the nice lunch he provided.

Fanny Kane was enjoying her birthday and her two daughters, Eleanor Bush and Evelyn Farrell, presented her with a beautiful birthday cake all aglow. It is reported that her husband, John Kane, also had a hand in it. In fact, we all got a hand in it and it was good.

Grand opening is 'smashing success'

Stirling Farm and Garden Supply, one of the village's newest established businesses, staged a "smashing" grand opening on Saturday, Jan. 16.

Stirling Farm and Garden Supply, a division of Tweed

Feed Mills Ltd., is owned and operated by John Ross Hodgins and Don Hodgins of Tweed.

In Tweed, the Hodgins brothers have successfully operated for a number of years a feed business which they took over from their father, the late and Don Hodgins of Tweed.

Emerson Hodgins. There, they have established a reputation of good business principles, service and leadership in the agricultural community.

In the spring of 1970, the Hodgins brothers had the opportunity to move into the Stirling area and open a new business, a branch of their Tweed operation, with a new Purina Chows franchise. The Ralston Purina company has not had representation in the area for approximately three years.

The Hodgins brothers purchased the available property at 126 North Street and engaged Douglas Morton as the contractor to build their new warehouse and store. On Dec. 15, Stirling Farm and Garden Supply opened its doors for business.

In the Stirling outlet, the Hodgins brothers plan to cater to all facets of agricultural needs, with a complete line of Purina Chows and Health Products, as well as the well-known Purina pet lines. Bulk chows will be available as well as bags and checkermixing service.

They also will be handling fertilizer from Brockville Chemical and will have bulk service and fertilizer applicators available to suit the needs of the farming community.

Shur Gain Feeds also are available at Stirling Farm and Garden Supply.

Another facet of the outlet's service will be the home and garden line where they plan to handle all gardening needs such as seeds, fertilizer and garden hardware.

On Jan. 16, the grand opening brought more than 500 people through the doors in sub-zero temperatures to see what the new Stirling Farm and Garden Supply had to offer.

ST. PAUL'S UNITED CHURCH

St. Paul's United Church, on the northwest corner of Emily and Church Sts., was built in 1881. The building has undergone two major renovation programs in the last two years. The first of these was the reconstruction of the Sunday School Hall in 1960. The chancel and present organ were installed in 1967. Approximately 500 area residents belong to the congregation and the minister is Rev. J. B. Small. Third in a Series.

This week at Centennial has been Visitation Week with administrative members observing the running of the school. The following administrative members visited Centennial: E.G. Runners, Director of Education; D. C. Stirling, J. M. Cousins, L. F. Reid, F. Tate, G. A. Watson, E. T. Morris and R. D. Horwood. The objectives of the visitation program are for administration with the program and staff of the school, for staff and principals to meet the administrative members, for administration to give support, advice and assistance, and to attempt to resolve any existing or potential problems and frustrations in the school, to develop comprehensive and panoramic overview of the education system in Hastings County and to maintain a realistic attitude toward the problems experienced in the school.

On Friday morning of the past week, a special theatrical production was presented to the students of four and five year English. The production was presented by Theatre Aquarius which comes from Ottawa. "The English Stage" was a 90 minute production which traced the development of the English stage from Medieval period to the present time. The production was fast-paced and well-balanced with the entire school student in mind. The show was performed by a cast of four actors, three from Ottawa and one from Britain. At the end of the production, the actors returned to the stage and held an informal 30-minute symposium with the students in which aspects of theatre history were elaborated upon and other questions from the students discussed. The production will run for 150 performances in Ontario until April of this year. The production at Centennial on Friday was the 39th performance.

320-LB. CALVES IN 4 MONTHS!

Two new calf rations—new, Magic Formula Purina Nursing Chow and new Purina Startena—can help you raise big, husky calves months earlier than slow-poke sisters fed other ways.

New Nursing Chow contains extra energy and more digestible proteins that help get calves off to a fast, healthy start. It mixes in seconds, won't settle out, flows through nipple pails and automatics without clogging.

New Calf Startena is higher in energy, lower in fiber, and more digestible than ever before. It keeps calves growing and gaining so they're big enough to breed at 12 to 15 months.

Call or visit us whenever you have calves to raise. And feed them the Purina way... on new Purina Nursing Chow and new Calf Startena.

Minor hockey

Minor Hockey Week, which is being observed this week in communities across Canada, affords an opportunity to say Thank You to the group of sports minded people who sponsor, coach or manage hockey teams.

Although the people responsible for operating these local teams obviously do it out of enjoyment for the youngsters and the game itself, there still is no small amount of time to be sacrificed.

During this week, parents and others are asked to show their gratitude to the builders of hockey by attending minor hockey games at the local arena. This has the double effect of encouraging the budding players.

Having said that, we offer the hope that the people running the minor hockey leagues will focus their attention on the physical and character-building aspects of the sport. The example set by the professional players, where the emphasis seems to be on sheer force rather than play-making, tends to rub off on the young player. This presents a challenge to minor hockey coaches and managers to stress sportsmanship and skill, with physical violence as displayed all too often in the National Hockey League, strictly banned.

And here's a suggestion for spectators at minor league games. How about a good rousing cheer for a well executed play? That would prove to the coaches and players alike that the fans came to see hockey — not a gladiator contest.

To cite an old cliché, it's not important whether one wins or loses, but how he plays the game.

SNOWMOBILE SAFETY MEETING

Jack Sproule, an inspector with St. John Ambulance, Belleville, points to a flip chart he used during a Snowmobile Safety meeting held at

Stirling Senior School Monday night. Looking on are David Duffin, president of the Bay of Quinte Sport Association and Constable Lyle Bowes, a safety officer with Belleville OPP. The meeting was co-sponsored by the Sport Association and the Stirling Snowmobile Snowdrifters Club.

Snowmobile outing Sunday

The Stirling Snowdrifters Snowmobile Club held their third annual outing on Sunday.

Approximately 90 people on 49 snowmobiles left the Elaine Footwear Parking Lot and travelled by trails to Island Park.

The group then went across the Trent River and on to Stockdale, led by two members of the Stockdale Snowmobile Club. Later in the day they returned to Island Park for a buffet supper served by the Potts family.

As a safety precaution the snowmobilers were divided into two groups.

Each group had a leader who wore a red hunter's vest.
The last driver of the group also wore a red vest. When the group crossed a road or highway the leader watched for traffic. The final rider in the snowmobile train was there to assist any other snowmobiler should trouble develop. The leader simply had to look back and see if the final driver was wearing a red vest. If such was the case then he knew that everyone in the group and their machines were in no difficulty.

The Snowdrifters Club is planning a night safari next Tuesday. A special childrens day, where the children operate snowmobiles under adult supervision, will be held on Feb. 7.

Friday night mixed bowling

The Scatter Pins are still in the lead with 71 points and following close behind are the Korner Pins with 64 points. The Mix-Ups got mixed up Friday night and took five points from the top team and are in third place with 55 points. Finally, the old Slow Pokes have got a full team so maybe they'll quit being so slow. They now have 34 points.

Verna Woodbeck has high average for the ladies of 200 and Ralph Park has got in the lead for the men with an average of 219.

Friday night, Ralph Scea rolled a game of 303 and Ralph Risley also rolled a 300 game.
John Reichert rolled the high triple for the week of 745, having games of 205, 261 and 279. Jessie Risley came up with three games of 204, 214 and

211, taking the high triple of 629.

Other good games were:
Harold Morgan, 213, 268; Bud
Risley, 225, 204; Douglas Scea, 249, 219; Ivy Poste, 250; Ralph Park, 206, 293, 220; Ray Poste, 251, 200; Irene Lippert, 227;
Ted Meades, 215; Robert
Sararas, 216; Maurice Faulkner,
213; Bill Reid, 205, 214, 238;
Rosa Spry, 209, Ralph Scea, 214.

On January 15, Ralph Parks rolled a 759 triple and Rosa Spry had high for the ladies of 648.

So far this year the high triple and single for the ladies is held by Verna Woodbeck with 832 and 326 and Ray Poste has high triple of 843 for the men and Maurice Faulkner holds the high single of 322.

Editor will address UCW

The Belleville Presbyterian United Church Women, in planning for the annual meeting of 1971, has secured as guest speaker Dr. A. C. Forrest, B.A., B.D., of Toronto. He will be at Tabernacle United Church, Belleville, where the ninth annual presbyterial of the United Church Women will meet on Thursday, February 11.
Registration is at 9 a.m. and Call to Worship by the president at 9:30.

As the theme for the meeting is Responsible Communication, it is fitting to have Dr. Forrest as speaker, as he is editor of the United Church Observer, a position he has held since 1955.
He is an ordained minister whose last parish was First United Church, Port Credit, Ont. A world traveller, he was in Rome for Vatican II, Geneva for the World Council of Churches, and spent a year in the Middle East.
He is 54, married, with four children.

In the afternoon there will be a skit by the Mount Pleasant U.C.W. of the Rawdon Charge.
Following this, the audience will be asked to participate.

given by Mrs. Omar Dracou on "What the world needs now is love, now war," stressed the need for love in the home. She also had many newspaper

St. Paul's Faith Unit

The first meeting of the new year was held at the Church on Tuesday afternoon,
January 9.

Welcomed at the door by Mrs. A. Brooks, 23 ladies attended. Mrs. Bruce Stapley opened with "A New Year Wish," and welcomed all present.

After the minutes were read, many letters of thanks were read for cards and Christmas boxes sent to shut-ins. Various reports were presented. 688 lbs. of clothing had been sent to the Overseas Depot in Toronto, besides supplying some local needs. New program schedules were distributed.

A devotional period was conducted by Mrs. H. Bird along with Mrs. A. Brooks and Mrs. R. Chambers on a New Year theme, pointing out the importance of the quality rather than the length of life.
"Live life in deeds not years." Mrs. R. Chambers gave a talk on this subject.

A film called "Comparisons" showed three grandmothers in three different countries - Nigeria, Canada, and Brazil - living very different lives, but the same in that they were all widowed and lonely, all concerned with their grandchildren and leading out-going lives, none indulging in self-pity but having interests of their own.

Discussion followed the showing.

The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Aythart.
A social time was held following the meeting. Mrs. R.
N. Smith expressed thanks to all who had taken part,
and who had served the tea.

Stirling firm buys creamery

BELLEVILLE — Diminishing supplies of churning cream, together with rising costs of operation have forced the sale of one of Belleville's two remaining dairy butter-making establishments.

Donald McNevin, owner of Glen Roy Creamery and Cold Storage, 289 Station Street, has announced the sale of his creamery to Stirling Creamery Ltd., with the operation to be transferred to the purchasers' Belleville Creameries.

In making the announcement, Mr. McNevin said the creamery property along with his cold storage and ice-making business on Pinnacle Street would be put up for separate sale.

"There's hardly anyone in Hastings County separating cream any more," stated Mr. McNevin in giving the reason for the sale of his creamery.

He said that butter production at his plant now was only one-quarter of his peak output some years ago.

"It was getting to the point that with expenses going up, we were just not able to operate," he said.

Currently the Glen Roy Creamery is being operated by Mr. McNevin's son Peter. In summer, up to six people have been employed, this number dropping to two in the winter. Mr. McNevin came to Belleville 30 years ago after operating a creamery at Sharbot Lake for a few years.

Stirling Creamery Ltd. has been operated by the West family of that village for many years with one of the brothers, Harold, managing the Belleville Creameries which was purchased some years ago.

Mr. West said that some of the butter-making equipment at the Glen Roy plant would be moved to the Belleville Creameries, with the Station Street plant continuing in operation processing cream from patrons formerly sending to Glen Roy.

Mr. McNevin said his ice-making plant on Pinnacle Street would continue in operation until the business and property was sold.

Creamery amalgamations in the Quinte area over the years have followed the trend set in the cheese industry.

At one time there were cheese factories at almost every hamlet and crossroad in the southern part of the county.

But since World War II, with amalgamations and the construction of new and larger centralized plants, the number by last year had dwindled to only 12.

Braille Foundation worker visits area

Liberato Pedro, representative of the Christian Record Braille Foundation, Inc., has been visiting and speaking in the vicinity about the work this organization is doing in behalf of the blind people of the Stirling area.

The Christian Record Braille Foundation, Inc., was started back in 1899 by Dr. A. O. Wilson, who became blind at the age of 9, when both eyes were removed. It began with an old hand wringer, which was operated by volunteer workers, and the first month, this "press" produced 75 Braille journals entitled "Christian Record". The same journal is published today and is the oldest continuous braille publication of its type in the world. However, today, instead of a hand wringer, modern presses are used, which turn out up to 26,000 pages an hour, making a total of over 12 million pages a year. This would make 10 1/2 stacks of braille pages as high as the Empire State Building. This one journal for which the organization was named, has developed into five braille and one large print monthly journal, and a quarterly Talking Magazine, which enjoys the largest circulation of any talking magazine in the world.

The Braille Foundation was the first organization ever to put together inkprint braille combination books, which are known as the Full Vision Library series. They contain printed pages, with pictures in color, with Braille pages inserted, making a most beautiful book to be used by blind parents who have small sighted children in their homes. Six volumes have been published, and they, the same as all other publications, are given free to blind people.

Mr. Pedro has been calling upon business people in this area who have regularly contributed to support these services for blind people. With an estimated 500,000 blind persons in the U.S. and Canada and approximately 37,000 people losing their sight annually, there certainly is a great task yet to be done in behalf of these people.

If any of the readers are acquainted with blind people who could use these free services, either braille, recorded or large print, contact the district representative, L. Pedro at his residence, 560 Finch Ave. West, Willowdale, Ontario.

Tweed industry gets grant

Lakewood Forest Products (Eastern) Limited of Tweed, Ontario, has been granted a $12,000 forgivable loan by the Ontario Development Corporation.

The company produces hardwood veneers and by extending their plant by $5,000 square feet and installing equipment, will be able to splice random sized off-cuts together and sell them in standard sizes to a wider market.

Stanley J. Randall pointed out that a high percentage of this company's sales are to the U.S. and the loan will help to increase these exports substantially. Also, this expansion will create eight new jobs immediately and a further 13 after five years.

Forgivable loans are interest free. If the business operates satisfactorily over a six year period, no repayment of principal is required.

Watch 'em go for... PURINA!

Horses really go for Purina. Now you can choose from two great Purina horse feeds—new Purina Horse Chow Checkers with built-in hay or Purina Omolene, a favorite of horsemen for almost 50 years.

Purina Horse Chow Checkers are a revolutionary idea in feeding horses. The hay is built in, eliminating the fuss and muss of hay. For those who prefer to feed hay there's the horsemen's standby—Purina Omolene.

We offer both of these research-developed Purina horse feeds in handy 50-lb. bags at our store with the Checkerboard Sign.

Kingston Presbytery meeting at Trenton

The annual meeting of the W.M.S. of the Kingston Presbytery was held at St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, Trenton, on Jan. 13. The theme of the meeting was "Are you getting the Word?" around.

The morning session began at 10:30 with president, Mrs. G. H. Lyons, Kingston, presiding. She opened the meeting with prayer. The worship service was conducted by members of St. Columba Church, Belleville. The president of Trenton W.M.S., Mrs. Jackson, welcomed the visitors.

The minutes of the 1970 annual meeting were read and approved. A letter containing a New Year's message from the Synodical president, Mrs. McFarlane, was read. Mrs. Hackert, Belleville, gave details of the Synodical meeting of the W.M.S. to be held in Belleville in April. Mrs. V. Weir gave a report on the articles received in connection with the Second Mile Project. The roll call was taken. Mrs. W.H.L. Smith, treasurer, handed out the financial statement. It was discussed at some length and suggested that we each would have to try harder to meet the needs of the W.M.S.

A meal was served by the ladies of Trenton.

Mrs. Broatch, the literary secretary, had a book display and members had the opportunity to purchase books.

The afternoon session began at 1:30 with a Service of Remembrance by members from Picton W.M.S. Miss L. Button of Trenton sang a solo.

It was announced that the Spring Rally would be held at Picton on the 19th of May.

Mrs. D. Taylor told of the Congress to be held in June at the University of Guelph and also told of a new film "Renewal" which would be available soon.

Mrs. Taylor introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. H. Keefe. Mrs. Keefe's theme was "A Step Forward". She told of the work of the re-assessment committee which had been formed to endeavour to integrate more closely the work of the W.M.S. (W.D. and E.D.) and the Board of Missions of the church. These two units appear to carry on the same type of work and unnecessary time and money is spent on the same thing. The new Board would be called the Board of World Missions. This change should be challenging and exciting.

The change involves a great deal of work, thought and prayer. We should agree to approach the change as Christian women. She said we first should re-assess ourselves and also our meetings. All groups should form a re-assessment committee. We should remember the past but we shouldn't live in it.

The offering was taken by Mrs. Smith and dedicated by her. The report of the Nominating Committee was read by K. Hood and the following officers were installed by Rev. D. Wilson, of Trenton: Honorary President, Miss F. Matthews; President, Mrs. George Williamson; 1st Vice Pres., Mrs. S. Cross; 2nd Vice Pres., Mrs. N. Allison; 3rd Vice, Mrs. D. Taylor; Recording Sec., Mrs. T. B. Sheffield; Corresponding Sec., Mrs. W. J. McLaren; Treasurer, Mrs. J. Craig; Afternoon Group, Mrs. L. Reddick; Evening Groups, Mrs. W.G.D.

Paterson; Girls' Groups, Mrs. Allan Glenn; Children's Groups, Mrs. K. Hood; Associate Members; Miss D. Druce; Friendship and Service, Mrs. C. Murray; Literature, Mrs. J. Broatch; Glad Tidings, Mrs. H. Thompson; Press, Mrs. B. Haggerty; Supply, Mrs. B. Cook; and without portfolio, Mrs. J. Cliff. Mrs. J. R. Johnston.

Rev. Wilson pronounced the benediction and the meeting was brought to a close. Cookies and coffee were served by the Trenton ladies.

Rebekah Lodge holds meeting

The regular meeting of Laurel Rebekah Lodge No. 211 was held in the L.O.O.F. Temple, Stirling, on Tuesday, January 12th with the Noble Grand, Sister Kathleen McMullen presiding. The members were welcomed and thanked for attending the meeting on such a cold night.

The Charter was draped in memory of Sister Aileen Vandewater, PNG, who passed away recently.

Sister Madeline Walker, Vice Grand, reported that several Sisters were ill with the flu and that they have been remembered in the usual way.

Plans are in the making for the visit on February 23rd of the Rebekah Assembly president, Sister Audrey Miller. She has requested that our staff exemplify the Degree of the Order so staff captain, Sister Patricia Merrill, PGN, has arranged for a staff practice after the next two meetings. All officers should plan to attend these meetings. Oakdale Rebekah Lodge No. 134 of Madoc is co-hostess with Laurel on this occasion.

The Lodge closed in regular form.
